Independent Wealth Manager

JOHN SCHUESSLER

Client Services Specialist | Medicare (Southwest Virginia)

John began his career as a medical technician before transitioning to the highly technical world of government-sponsored health care benefits. For the past 20 years, he has acquired numerous industry-related certifications and licenses, which allow him the knowledge and experience to counsel our Main Street Group clients.

John spends his time teaching the application process for Medicare to groups of 63- to 65-year-olds. He meets individually with clients to explore their options with supplemental Medicare insurance, prescription drug plans and annual open enrollment periods.

John works to help clients fully understand insurance contracts and receive the most value for their premium dollar.

You are under no obligation to use the services of John Schuessler or any of the entities shown, and may choose any qualified professional to provide services. John Schuessler, The Main Street Group and Kestra Investment Services, LLC are unaffiliated entities.
