

PATTI WOODIE

Chief Compliance Officer

Patti is the delightful voice that answers the office phone and the first smiling face that greets clients as they walk through the door. She handles scheduling for the firm and assists staff and advisors with a variety of projects. Patti's bubbly personality and upbeat attitude have been a wonderful addition to The Main Street Group team.

Patti was born and raised in the Maryland suburbs of Washington, D.C. She graduated from West Virginia University with a Bachelor of Science in dietetics and nutrition and attended graduate school at Virginia Tech to pursue a career in nutrition. She worked as a dietitian and substitute teacher while raising her two daughters, Lauren and Jessica. Patti also spent many years as a high school and traveling soccer coach.

After falling in love with the mountains, Patti spent 25 years living in the small Virginia town of Bluefield and moved to Richmond in 2012 after her youngest daughter went off to college. Having lived in a small, rural town for so long, Patti enjoys all that Richmond has to offer — the restaurants, the symphony and the ballet — and the relative ease of getting around town, especially compared to Washington, DC. Her love of the outdoors has never faded, and she gets away for a mountain vacation whenever possible; she's even planning to learn to fly fish!
